Publishing abdmall on the app stores

What we need from you, what it costs, and what we handle · October 2026

The abdmall mobile app is built and working. To put it on Google Play and the Apple App Store, each store needs a developer account registered to a person or a company.

We will create and run both accounts for you. All we need from you is some information from your CAC documents and two short confirmations — set out in sections 1 and 5. You will not need to fill in any forms or deal with Google or Apple yourself.

1 What we need from you, in short

FROM YOU	WHAT WE SUGGEST
Confirm whose name the accounts are registered in	abdmall's. You own them; we create and run them for you. Section 2 explains why this matters.
Confirm we register as a company, not an individual	Yes. abdmall is CAC-registered, which avoids a two-week delay Google imposes on individuals.
Send us your CAC details	Six items, listed in section 5. Copied from the certificate, not from memory.

That is everything. We handle the rest — the registrations, the payments, the forms, the uploads and the submissions. The only point at which you may be contacted directly is noted in section 6.

2 Whose name should the accounts be in?

Whichever account the app is published under owns that app permanently. It is the account customers see as the publisher, and the account that controls updates.

Under our account

Osmani Technologies is the publisher. Slightly quicker to begin, since we already have the groundwork.

- Your app sits inside our account
- Moving it to you later is a formal Google process with a 60-day wait
- You depend on us for every release

Under your account

abdmall is the publisher. You own the listing outright, from the first day.

- We create it, verify it and run it on your behalf
- Nothing to transfer, ever
- If you ever change developer, nothing moves

WHAT WE RECOMMEND

Register the accounts in abdmall's name. We are recommending the option that gives us less control, because it is the right one for you — the same reason the abdmall.com domain is registered to you and not to us. Your app, your customers, your account. We do the work either way.

3 Company or individual?

Both stores ask whether you are registering as a business or as a person. This affects how long it takes to go live.

	AS A COMPANY	AS AN INDIVIDUAL
Shown to customers as	abdmall's company name	A personal name
Needs a D-U-N-S number	Yes — see below	No
Google's testing requirement	Exempt	12 testers for 14 days before going live
Time to start	Depends on the D-U-N-S number	Today

What a D-U-N-S number is

A free nine-digit number that identifies a registered business internationally — like a passport number for a company. Apple and Google use it to confirm the company exists and that you are authorised to act for it.

abdmall may already have one without knowing. Records are often created automatically from public company filings, so this is worth checking before assuming any wait.

If a number already exists, registering as a company costs nothing in time and skips Google's 12-tester requirement entirely. If one does not, applying takes anywhere from one to four weeks. Either way we handle it — we only need your registered company name to begin.

THE ONE UNPREDICTABLE STEP

The D-U-N-S check is the only part of this process whose timing nobody controls. We will run the lookup ourselves as soon as you send the CAC details — we just need the exact registered name to search for. If a number already exists, we proceed immediately; if not, the application is ours to make and chase.

4 What it costs

STORE	FEE	HOW OFTEN
Google Play	$25	Once, forever
Apple App Store	$99	Every year

You have already settled both fees with us, and we will pay Google and Apple on your behalf. These are their charges rather than ours; we are passing them through.

Paying for an account is not the same as owning it. We can pay the fees while the accounts are registered in abdmall's name — the card used at checkout does not have to belong to the account holder. So the recommendation in section 2 still stands, and nothing about who paid changes who owns the apps.

PLEASE NOTE — THE APPLE FEE REPEATS

Apple's $99 is charged every year, not once. What you have paid covers the first twelve months. It will fall due again on the anniversary of enrolment, and the app is removed from the App Store if it lapses.

We will make sure the renewal is billed to abdmall directly rather than sitting on our card, so it cannot be missed or quietly paid by the wrong party. Google's $25 is genuinely once and never recurs.

Android is the cheaper and larger market in Nigeria, so we suggest starting there. Apple can follow once Android is live — there is no need to set both up at once. Note also that an iPhone cannot run the app at all without the paid Apple account, so that $99 buys the ability to test, not only to publish.

5 What we need from you

You mentioned abdmall is registered with the CAC as a limited liability company. That is good news — it means we can register as a company rather than an individual, which is what exempts us from Google's twelve-tester requirement.

To do that, we need the following exactly as they appear on the CAC documents. Please copy them rather than typing from memory:

WHAT	WHY IT IS NEEDED
Full registered company name	Including whether it is “Limited” or “Ltd”, and any punctuation. This is the single most common cause of a failed verification.
RC number	The CAC registration number.
Registered office address	The address as filed with the CAC, which may differ from where you actually operate.
A scan of the certificate of incorporation	Both stores may ask to see it.
Name of a director or authorised officer	Apple requires the person enrolling to have legal authority to commit the company, and may telephone to confirm it.
Company phone number and email	Used for verification. Ideally the ones on file with the CAC.

A mismatch between these and what we enter — an old address, “Ltd” where the certificate says “Limited” — is the usual reason an application is rejected, and each attempt costs several days. It is worth taking the certificate out and reading from it.

We will also need the D-U-N-S lookup result (section 3) and confirmation of the two decisions at the top of this document.

6 What we handle

Everything else. We create both developer accounts in abdmall's name, pay the fees from what you have already settled with us, complete the verification forms, prepare the store listing and screenshots, upload the app and submit it for review. We then run the accounts day to day and publish every future update.

The accounts will be opened using abdmall@abdmall.com — your own domain, already set up — so they belong to abdmall from the first day even though we operate them. Nothing is in our name, and nothing would need transferring if you ever changed developer.

THE ONE THING WE CANNOT DO FOR YOU

Before approving a company account, Apple may telephone the company to confirm that the person registering has authority to act for it. That call has to be answered by a director or officer of abdmall — it is a legal check and cannot be delegated to us.

It is one short call. We just need to know who to name and which number they will answer, so the call is expected rather than mistaken for a scam. Google does not usually do this; Apple frequently does.

ONE THING WE NEED YOUR APPROVAL ON

Both stores require a published privacy policy explaining what the app collects — names, email addresses, phone numbers, delivery addresses and payment references. Applications are routinely rejected over this.

We will draft it and publish it at abdmall.com/privacy. It is a legal commitment about how you handle customer data, so it should be read by you or your lawyer before it goes live — but writing it is our job, not yours.

7 What happens next

	STEP	WHO
1	Confirm the two points in section 1 and send the CAC details	You
2	Tell us who Apple should call, and on which number	You
3	Check whether a D-U-N-S number already exists, and apply if not	Us
4	Register both developer accounts and pay the fees	Us
5	Complete verification with Google and Apple	Us
6	Draft the privacy policy for your approval	Us, you approve
7	Prepare the listing, upload the app, submit for review	Us

Steps 1 and 2 are the only ones needing anything from you, and both can be done in a single reply. Everything after that is ours.

Realistically, expect three to six weeks from your reply to being live on Google Play, most of it spent waiting on verification and store review rather than on work.

Happy to talk any of this through rather than have you reply in writing.
